

I would like to kindly inform you, it is my great pleasure that I have started my visiting of the Department of Information Systems and Modeling Information Technologies and Energetics scientific school M.Auezov South Kazakhstan State University of Shymkent, on 18th Nov 2019.

When I received the warm invitation of prof. ZhannatUmrava , I decided to accept herproposition to come to the university as a visiting professor. I would like to express my sincere appreciationfor her kind invitation. Frankly speaking,high motivation, discipline, and eagerness of the faculty members is one of the most prominent features of the university staffat the first glance.The goal is to share my contributions with the lecturers and students of the university.

When I arrived toShymkent airport Prof Zhalgasbek was there to welcome me. Soon, I understood that the people of this country are really kind and friendly. They helped me in different situations. I started lecture ring in a short course of distributed systems. The audience were the master students and academic staffs. They attended the classregularly. They had high capability and motivation.

In my opinion this university contains some very good facilities for researching and also has very nice students and staffs. I hope we handle some important common tasks with the professors and students of the university including: holding the collaborative conferences and journals, publishing participatory papers in some scientific journals and do some other common scientific works with the cooperation of the university members.

However, I found this cooperation a good chance to develop the university from scientific point of view.I hope I can continue this relationship for the future.
